

Do the Limbic

the first article on understanding overcoming the limbic system even for aliens.

The system of controls in our minds that trigger actions are cued from awareness. Our soul is what responds to our environment and trains us toward righteousness or wickedness. The awareness that directs our thoughts leads us to sin when we respond to the sin in our blood or to God when we are using the prayer centre in our mind following God.

The double-edged sword is, the sinner is fully aware of who they are turning their bodies over to and they love fornication with religion as much as fornication with direct, even self, genital stimulation. Biden was desperate for Jehovah. He got the demon he coveted. Obama is content with Leaven, a Satan clone among his non clone collection. You do understand that God is not saving the Queen, right?

Being Abraham's Seed

The seed of Abraham from Ishmael, first born, to every being born from Abraham's genetics alive when God installed His king over Israel earned protection against acting on the impulses of the sin in your blood against your own will. Those born through Joseph are in the place of favour because it is easiest for these to obey God. The Christ came through Jesse. This allowed David the showbread. Ancestors branded their genetics for righteousness or perversion. Ham doesn't look so good now, does he?

How Low Can You Go? the Limbo

The supper (mac meant super but these are sinners against Christ's last supper) sinner gained enormous ground when they set up teams of enforcement to put people in a place of obedience to the law and then their lawyers went to work finding the loopholes in the law that meant police forces became less able to actually enforce the law they were sworn to enforce while protecting and serving the public.

This cycle of abusing honest law enforcement individuals making it tougher for them to even enforce the letter of the law without executing steps according to an exact procedure were what the supper sinner needed to make it difficult for God to capture the praying supper sinner. Enter the prophet. (Hear God say, "The king gig is bonus for Me. mac would have been a Jonah had she been sent out to Israel at the start. She knew she was going to pick up that rod when the training was concluded.")

Individuals that have found eternity with a series of demons (the false gods) defile even the famous spirit of the law because they have perverted justice. The spirit of the law worked in the favour of the Lord of Hosts, God's spirit police force, dog in the fight, and corrector of those that pursued righteousness. These are the ones that stopped going to church in favour of honest work. Then there was no honest work in the land of the Protestants. Pope, you know you are in a shit pile and you will regret the Swiss Guard.

Actionable Triggers

Reason with God

Seek Premonition

Feeling Like Shit and Eating

The struggle even a righteous person has is eating. Standing at the refrigerator or near food while out and asking what do I feel like? A righteous person prays to God about providing them food, what to eat and when before they eat or cook for their family. More on these things later. They learn not to eat based on what they feel like but what they know God needs them to eat. You will be surprised at how many times He needs to put ice-cream in you so that you have enough calories to be in His service.

An individual who is obedient to demons is not having a rational conversation of thoughts in their mind they are blocking out as much of their mind as possible. This is why they only have ritual sacrifices and looking to one another for signs and omens and obedience is impossible.

Ending the addiction to acting on, "I feel..."

"I feel like..." is the addiction actuator. Without understanding why the feeling is motivating you the pathway to believing for the right demon for you is established. Very few self-responses without thought in response to "I feel like..." are required before an individual is addicted to acting on premonition.

A righteous person checks themselves and directs a quick prayer to God before acting on the "I feel" motivator one who wants to follow God petitions with "I think" and asks before moving forward.

Don't be the least bit surprised as you are learning leadership from God if the moment you say, "I feel," you are not quickly barking "fuck", even under your breath, with eyes to the heavens in frustration over how ingrained the feel response is. Then recognize God is glad you caught yourself and will help you analyse why you just jumped to the "feel" mode before you acted.

Acting without being aware of what motivates us is subconscious. God's favourite question to mac as she was amid anything and stopped speaking through her prayer centre was, "What time is it?" It was the cue. At the very least she needed to notice the breath reminder on her Apple watch. That was how she kept mindful of acknowledging, "In Jesus name, I'm listening." The more you as an individual acknowledge God, the more He puts you in a place of life saving subconscious movements. If a righteous person slips into "I feel like I should," what they are is horrified. What a righteous person knows is that they sent a prayer to their heart that the mind picked up in the relay. Only an individual with a circumcised heart can make a prayer to God with their heart. (Hear God say, "Game set match and point.")
