

Mele Kalikimaka to You

December 7, 2021

How the Force is with you, Milley. You just don't get a fucking choice if Biden does not pay the ransom by the 24th of December. Biden, you had better talk to Trump and Putin because on short notice those two are the only people that can bail your nigger ass out of trouble. No, mac does not want you to be able to pay the ransom.

The weather woman of California newscasts spoke of the pineapple express coming through. A fast moving, warm, drenching storm that gave a little to the aquifers and rarely meant anything other than a type of cement snow storm surcharging suspended cables with dirty ice for days for upper elevations. That is not what is baptising Hawaii's landscape, now. It is going to get worse. Texas is certainly due. When Hawaii's storm does finally hit the mainland, aquifers are the last of your worries.

Without paying the ransom the United States military from Milley through to every basic recruit is going to be forced to accept mac as their Commander and Chief. That is heaven forcing you against your own will to follow orders. For this you are a remnant and you are preserved alive in God Almighty's memory to be resurrected.

Biden can buy out the whole world for the eight billion or there is nothing to offer anyone else. You want your soldiers to play war with Biden? Cough up the eight billion. The Fed chairman will let you know what the current value of eight billion dollars on August 21, 2021 amounts to. From the date the cashiers check is handed to mac, you are allowed a two day grace period for deflator adjustment lag.

This means in lieu of the eight billion you can purchase a name plaque that reads "God" for mac's hot seat facing government comities. Don't expect her to be giving them much air time. They are just going to be told, "The Space Force is shutting you filthy n*rs down. We are done with you." Everyone is boots on the ground warriors in mac's military. And no we are not members of NATO nor the United Nations and we certainly do not support the European Union.

In the mean time Corpus is due total annihilation should mac need plunder for her survival.
