

Alluring

August 12, 2019

Men understand I want to know you like I knew Adam. Who did I create first? Adam.

The True God Beseeches

On the Madison River below the lake Ennis damn is a remote stretch of wide spilling river popular with floaters and anglers in and below the Lee Metcalf Wilderness. In July the sun barely warms the river above the winter thaw that still trickles through mountain troughs. Sound alluring? It is. There are places in the United States of pristine wild beauty. Places like this exist all over the world because government sees the need to preserve its wild places. I love this protection of earth.

What Are You Wearing?

In a shop window cartoon-printed fishing lures with hooks of odd shapes and colours are gaily arranged in random fashion and coordinating colours on men's bright green trunks. No suggestion here. The greener pasture is an alluring cartoon? All right, men, really? You want people looking at what you adorn your male member with, your passageway of life and joy, and giggling? Think of the pleasure you experienced when you held your first baby. How you looked at your child and said, "Never will I let anything hurt my child." Do not you know how it pained Me when Adam tasted mortality? Adam, the one created in My image.

Men, who derailed you into thinking you were less? You are indeed less than Me and My king. And in truth humans being flesh are less than angels, spirit beings. But you are not less than a woman, a child, a dog. However, it seems that you have bought into regarding your male member as a joke. Your penis and sperm are not a joke. If you need a joke you wear under your pants, all right. I have a sense of humour. But wearing shorts that make a joke of your strength for others to gawk at, you had better be a wall against fornication. Otherwise you are making a mockery of My creation, you.

An Invitation, "I Want to Know You"

Men understand I want to know you like I knew Adam. Who did I create first? Adam. He enjoyed many years with Me naming My animal creation. Adam studied each animal's characteristics, enjoyed playing with it in the Garden of Eden and then gave it a name. Years I spent with Adam. Then I, in My love, created Him a companion. Adam was lost in Eve's beauty, in the reality of having a companion for him. That humanity was subsequently adulterated I Am rectifying. Thank My Ark for that. We are in the middle of a process to find humans who want to fill My Kingdom.

I Am asking you men to; please, protect your wild place. You deserve to have a mate who has vowed before Me to obey you. That is right obey. It will be easy to cherish her that protects you. Women that are looking to take everything you have to offer without regard to the life you give, need much work to enter My Kingdom. What would Lee Metcalf and other wildernesses be if left to greedy development? Do not get chopped up in a get rich quick scheme.

Pray to the True God, Get Results

Do yourself a favour, call out to Me in prayer. I am greater than all of My creation combined, and want to hear from you everything that troubles and interests you.

"True God, I struggle with understanding how important it is to you for me to speak with you. I get so distracted. I am concerned about _____. My sin is great. Please, forgive me. I am grateful that the Christ did so much. How do I begin to pray more often? How do I know that my prayers matter to you? I go to church. They pray there. I listen. This looks like such a little thing to do, and you know me already. You know my heart. How can I start to share what is on my mind? I want to be a _____. My children want _____. My wife wants _____. How do I become what I want, doing what they want? What do you want of me? If I do your will, will my life be better? I have more questions than statements. In 'Jesus name,' please let this prayer be the start for us to know each other, Amen"
