

Bank of Sin, God Wants It Back

December 24, 2019

he blood is life. Since the fornication event in the garden of Eden the blood is also sin. The true God made it clear, He wants blood returned to Him.

(Hear God say, "Blood is death until you are resurrected into My Kingdom") The ancient practice of transfusing blood has been in use since Egypt was a world power. Animal or human blood from corpses into the living was used to replace lost blood in a wounded individual on battle fields then. The true God hated this practice then. He hates foreign-to-body blood consumption, and all forms of blood ingestion and/or exchange. This is profane blood use.

The Warning to Physicians

You who deal in blood, this is your warning. You will have time to repent as the evidence of the warning mounts. Those that use patient-foreign blood in their medical practice will be buried by medical malpractice -- growing exponentially -- and be humbled with public servitude and personal poverty unless you terminate patient-foreign blood medicine.

You will be incapable of defending yourself against the suits against you for even routine medical error. You, medic, are to train yourself in replacement surgical methods that do not require blood. If you do not; you will be discriminating against patients that do not have self-blood banked, and you as a medic will be eliminated from medical practice over time for this criminal discrimination fed by usury. This burden of learning falls to all medical technicians and actors that; handle, distribute, share, process, and use: blood in medicine.

The Blood Guilty

This is your penalty for the blood guilt you bear. A soldier obedient in his duties has less blood guilt than one surgeon who practices one foreign-to-patient blood medical procedure. (The general or admiral delivering the order bears it all. Did you feel that pinch?) If you put foreign-to-patient blood in a body, you are committing the sin of blood guilt against the true God. Blood belongs to the true God. He is making a provision for self-blood, a mercy toward those on dialysis and akin treatments of this world.

While all persons have the choice of worshipping Satan, the cost of admission and profanely using blood is going to bankrupt national governments the world over. You see, the true God will not support you supporting dealing in blood. Shepherd, you exist at the mercy -- perhaps patronage -- of the true God. Blood, life, belongs to the true God. Death belongs to Satan. Medicine, understand, you may no longer steal life to profiteer with sin.
